Freedom Is Lost Bit by Bit

The Washington (D.C.) magazine Liberty tells this allegory about how men lose their freedom:

"A while back we heard a new twist to the old story about how to kill a frog. You can't kill a frog by dropping him in boiling water, the speaker said. He reacts so quickly to the sudden heat that he jumps out before he is hurt. But if you put him in cold water and then warm it up gradually, he doesn't decide to jump until it is too late. By then he is cooked."

"Men are just as foolish, the speaker continued. Take away their freedom overnight, and you have a revolution. But steal it away from them gradually—under the guise of security, peace, or progress—and they will not wake up until too late."

A decade ago while making a series of speeches in the Southwest in behalf of the national Committee Against Censorship by Taxation I used a similar approach in discussing censorship.

An official doesn't come down to the newspaper office and bluntly tell the editor what to print and what not to print. Government is too slick to do a stupid thing like that. Government accomplishes censorship by threatening to make publishing a newspaper impossible.

Thus in Argentina when Dictator Peron wished to stop the editorial attacks of the independent newspaper La Prensa he didn't send one of his generals down to jail the editor; instead, he reduced the amount of paper allocated to La Prensa (Argentina has to import its paper, and government controls the allocations), and organized La Prensa's labor in a government union—putting the newspaper out of business.

The other route by which government exercises censorship over citizens is through discriminatory taxation. Examples:

A private electric company seeing government threatening to put tax dollars into a competitive setup takes out advertisements to denounce "unfair competition." Government strikes back by refusing to allow the private company to deduct the advertising as a legitimate business cost.

In my own case in the 1960s I had carried an editorial fight against diversion of the sales tax away from the schools, into petition campaigns to give the people a popular vote. Government ruled, and the courts sustained it, that my petition expense for a non-profit cause was not deductible.

The government cliché in both the private power company case and my own was, we were "influencing legislation," therefore had to pay a tax penalty.

No man knows the lengths government will go to until he finds himself in collision with it.

Aftermath of a near-tragedy

State Trooper Robert Neel stands beside the mangled cab of a logging truck which left State Highway 73 about 10 miles northwest of Hope early yesterday, struck a bridge and overturned in a creek.

The driver, Stanley Hacton, 31, of Ashdown suffered a broken back and other injuries; he was taken to Memorial Hospital here, then later transferred to an Ashdown hospital. Neel said the accident occurred when a load chain broke and the load shifted, causing Hacton to lose control of the vehicle. The truck struck the side of a bridge and overturned into the creek about 15 feet below. A resident of the area, R. E. Lively, heard the collision, went to the scene and pulled Hacton from the water.

Nixon, Tanaka at summit meeting

HONOLULU (AP) — President Nixon, beginning a round of mid-Pacific conferences today, put Vietnam first on the agenda, then a bid for a billion-dollar economic transfusion from Japan.

Before opening formal summit talks with visiting Japanese Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka, Nixon set aside the morning for a Vietnam review with Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. Ambassador to Saigon.

The President and Mrs. Nixon were on hand at Hickam Air Force base — a major target of Japan's 1941 attack that brought the United States into World War II — to welcome the stocky Tanaka, who was installed as prime minister only last month.

The President and his advisers hope two days of sessions with Tanaka will produce a formal agreement by Japan to place an extra billion dollars on orders for American goods ranging from jet aircraft to feed grain.

Actually, the U.S. government would like Japan to up the ante to $2 billion, but preliminary talks in Tokyo indicated the lesser amount was more likely.

Americans currently are buying Japanese goods worth $3.8 billion more than they are selling to the Japanese each year. This imbalance is one factor behind the weakness of the dollar in international money markets.

Nixon and Tanaka will also talk about developing ties between their two countries and China.

While in Hawaii, the President and Mrs. Nixon are scheduled to have some activities that presumably could benefit the chief executive's campaign for a second term.

Mrs. Nixon, for example, was to spend more than seven hours today on the island of Hawaii, visiting good-works projects and being fêted at an evening luau.

The Nixons, in what was regarded as at least a semi-political event, spent an hour Wednesday night shaking hands with about 600 Hawaii business, political and civic leaders at the oceanside estate of long-time Republican Clare Boothe Luce.

Nixon's schedule for today was confined solely to official business, however. Henry A. Kissinger, his foreign policy adviser, described the morning meeting with Bunker as a review of the situation in Vietnam and the search for a negotiated settlement of the war.

In welcoming Tanaka at a state arrival ceremony in a Hickam hangar, Nixon said: "May we always meet as we meet today, working for the great goals of peace in the Pacific and peace in the world."

Tanaka responded by noting the increased national strength of Japan and saying:

"With this in mind, we wish to strengthen further the already solid foundation of friendship and mutual trust between Japan and the United States and to promote even more wide-ranging cooperative relations in the coming years. I earnestly hope that my meeting with President Nixon will mark the beginning of a new era of constant dialogue between our two countries."

Flying to Hawaii Wednesday with the Nixons were Secretary of State William P. Rogers, Undersecretary U. Alexis Johnson, Assistant Secretary Marshall Rreen and Kissinger.

Kissinger told reporters a Nixon-Tanaka communique had been blocked out in general terms in advance of the Hawaii summit, as a result of a Kissinger mission to Tokyo earlier this month and meetings between Japanese leaders and the American ambassador there.

An estimated 5,000 Hawaiians turned out to greet the Nixons when they arrived in a rain shower. Although few political signs were in evidence, neither was there any evidence of protest.

Russian naval bases in Egypt may close

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union may soon be forced to give up its naval bases in Egypt, some intelligence sources here say.

Relations between the two countries have been rapidly deteriorating in recent months and President Anwar Sadat of the United Arab Republic already has told the Russians to withdraw their air force and army units.

Sources report a growing belief in Washington's intelligence community that the Russian navy may soon follow suit.

There have been reports of a secret meeting in which Sadat told his subordinates the Soviet navy would leave Egypt. Officials here say they know about the meeting but cannot confirm the reports. They say they are inclined to accept an earlier statement by Sadat that the Russians could continue to use the naval facilities.

But one official said it was "significant, or at least interesting" that Moscow has not commented on Sadat's statement.

Sources say there has not yet been any change in Russian use of their naval installations at Alexandria, Mersa Matruh and the Gulf of Sollum on the Libyan border.

Loss of the naval facilities would not have the same impact on the Soviet Union as its earlier loss of air bases, although it would be another psychological blow, sources said.

Loss of the air bases has shown up in the recent cessation of Soviet reconnaissance flights over the U.S. sixth fleet, the sources said.

The loss of Egyptian air bases also was serious for broad Soviet military planning, officials here say. MIG23s, using the bases, covered the southern half of Greece and Turkey, two NATO allies of the United States. They complemented the air coverage over northern Greece and Turkey from MIG23s based in the Soviet Union and Bulgaria.

Since the Soviet Union has no aircraft carriers in the Mediterranean, the Egyptian bases seem irreplaceable, officials say.

But in the event of loss of Egyptian naval installations, the Russians still could use two bases in Syria, at Latakia and Tartus.

Charges flow as campaign catches fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican charges of "devious cover-ups" have drawn Democratic claims of "nitpicking" in the latest round of accusations over presidential campaign money-handling under a new law.

While Democratic presidential nominee George S. McGovern's campaign has "attempted to hold its campaign out to the public as above reproach, his organization has in fact resorted to devious cover-ups in various fund raising activities," GOP National Chairman Robert J. Dole said Wednesday.

Dole called for a probe by the General Accounting Office—which the audit agency said is already under way. "I believe there is substantial evidence that the McGovern campaign apparatus has committed at least seven serious violations" of the new political finance law, Dole said in a letter to GAO.

A GAO official said, "We plan to give this the same type of treatment we gave the Republicans."

Frank Mankiewicz, McGovern's national political director, told reporters that GAO already had begun a "routine" audit of McGovern finances before Dole asked for it.

For Dole "to accuse the McGovern campaign of the kind of violations that are talked about in this letter," Mankiewicz said, "is somewhat like a man caught on the street after a bank robbery with the cash in a sack calling in the police to arrest a jaywalker he sees crossing the street. I don't think anybody is fooled by this."

Dole charged that the McGovern campaign received at least $10,000 from a London-based committee called "Americans for McGovern Abroad," which has not registered with the federal elections office. Mankiewicz said there is such a group, it did contribute $10,000, "and so far as I know it has not registered."

But, Mankiewicz said, there is "some doubt in the law as to whether foreign committees were required to file. We'll clear that up, and that committee will file very shortly."

On other matters, Dole said there are reports that some McGovern supporters bought tickets at prices of at least $2,000 for a Madison Square Garden rally, but the purchasers have not been individually identified.

Mankiewicz said the rally followed an initial filing period deadline, and "if there were such contributions" they could be included in a later report.

Dole said the press reported Stewart Mott of New York contributed $377,500 to McGovern's campaign, but public disclosures report $38,000 in contributions and $40,000 in loans. Mankiewicz said the latest report was June 28.

Eagleton wants better method of VP selection

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP) — Sen. Thomas Eagleton, greeted by enthusiastic crowds while stumping for Democratic candidates during a tour of southeastern Missouri, says there should be a better method of selecting the vice presidential candidate.

Eagleton, who withdrew earlier this month as the Democratic vice presidential nominee, proposed at a luncheon here Wednesday that the nation's second highest office should have its candidates chosen only after the presidential nominee has had "10 thoughtful, reflective, quiet days to pick his men."

The Missouri Democrat said such a system would prevent presidential nominees "from hastily reaching a decision."

Eagleton was asked about a comment made Tuesday by Mrs. George McGovern, wife of the Democratic presidential nominee, that the true story of Eagleton's resignation had not yet been told. Eagleton laughed and said, "There are a lot of 'em going to divulge when I write my book."

Eagleton formally withdrew from the race Aug. 1 after he disclosed that he had undergone psychiatric treatment three times in the 1960s.

Commercial fishing is OKd for Millwood

Beginning at daylight on Tuesday, Sept. 5, three Arkansas lakes will be added to the list of those waters open to commercial fishing. They are Millwood, Harris Brake, and Overcup.

Legal tackle will be licensed gill and trammel nets of no smaller than three-inch bar mesh. The special commercial season on these lakes will end at the same time as the regular commercial fishing season—April 30 of next year.

According to Fisheries Chief Bill Keith this special season is being opened in order that commercial fishermen may remove some of the large rough fish not normally taken by hook-and-line fishermen, e.g., buffalo, carp, and drum, and thereby help maintain a balanced population of fish species in these lakes.

Keith stated that this is to be especially effective on Harris Brake and Overcup because these two lakes will be undergoing drawdowns at this time and the fish will be concentrated in a smaller volume of water. He also said that while the fish are thus concentrated in these lakes the desirable predaceous fishes, such as bass, crappie, and catfish, can more easily catch and eat the small rough fish, converting the total pounds of fish in the lakes to more desirable species.

Receives Award—Steve Harris, at left, accepts the Henry W. Seamans Memorial Scholarship Award from Kiwanian E.P. Young Jr., at the local club's family picnic Tuesday night. Harris, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Lynn Harris, received the award, which carries with it a $300 scholarship. It is an award given to a Key Club senior student who has shown outstanding leadership and service to his Key Club, his school and community. (See article at right)

Hope Kiwanis Club has family picnic

In an effort to promote family togetherness Kiwanis International designates a week in August each year as Family Reunion Week for all its clubs and urges some special program or activity in which the entire family can participate.

On Tuesday evening the local Kiwanis Club held a family picnic at Fair Park and urged each Kiwanian to bring his entire family to the outing. The response was gratifying.

The meal was catered, a catfish and trimmings supper that was just right for such an occasion. Paul Oller, local catfish farmer, stated that this is the first time in the United States that a member of the National Catfish Farmers Association has catered a meal for a civic club.

Teddy Jones, secretary of the local club, accepted, on behalf of the club, the Honorable Mention Achievement Award Ribbon in the Diamond Division (clubs with 50 to 100 members) in the Mo-Ark District of Kiwanis International. This honor is based upon the activities and achievements of a given club in competition with all the other clubs in Missouri and Arkansas. Mr. Jones accepted the award and pinned the ribbon to the Hope Kiwanis Club Banner.

The local club in memory of the late Henry W. Seamans established, a few years ago, the Henry W. Seamans Memorial Scholarship Award. This is an award given to a Key Club senior student who, in the opinion of the Key Club Committee, renders outstanding leadership and service to his Key Club, his school, and his community. It is an honor given to one Key Clubber each year and carries with it an award of $300.00 to the school of recipients choice to apply on his college education.

This year's winner is Steve Harris, son of Kiwanian Lynn Harris. The Key Club committee chairman, E. P. Young, Jr., presented this award to Steve at the Kiwanis Family Picnic meeting.

The Hope High School coaching staff and their wives were special guests at this meeting. Head coach Gaylord Solomon introduced his staff and then commented on the prospects for the Bobcat team in the upcoming football season.

Jets destroy ammunition dump in VN

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy pilots destroyed a giant ammunition depot in North Vietnam Wednesday, the U.S. Command reported today. Fliers from the carrier Kitty Hawk said their bombs caused 100 secondary explosions and seven large fires at the Dong Ngan depot 13 miles northeast of Vinh.

Pilots from the carrier Oriskany hit a major fuel depot a mile west of Vinh, while other Oriskany fliers attacked a storage area 39 miles to the south. The Command said they caused five explosions and a huge fire at the fuel depot, and at the storage area destroyed more than 100 supply crates and damaged another 100.

A third target was the Cam Pha fuel depot 37 miles north-east of Haiphong. The Command said pilots from the Midway destroyed four supply buildings there and touched off a large explosion and a fire.

In South Vietnam, Communist forces rained rockets into the big air base at Bien Hoa during the night and carried out a series of hit-and-run terror and sabotage attacks at scattered points.

The Saigon command said 15 Vietnamese were killed and 51 were wounded in the attacks. One American also was wounded, and eight U.S. and South Vietnamese planes were destroyed or damaged at Bien Hoa. Two-thirds of the Vietnamese casualties were civilians.

Two Marine squadrons of A4 bombers and an Air Force squadron of A37 bombers are stationed at Bien Hoa, or 50 to 60 planes. They support ground operations in the southern half of South Vietnam and Cambodia.

Bien Hoa is also used as a forward operating base for scores of American jets based in Thailand. They refuel, rearm and receive maintenance at Bien Hoa.

It was the second time this month the base had been shelled. An 86-round rocket barrage on Aug. 1 killed one American Marine and one Vietnamese, wounded 31 Americans and 24 Vietnamese and damaged two Marine A4 jets.

The only major fighting reported was at Quang Tri, on the northern front, where a stalemate battle has been taking a heavy toll on both sides for the past two months.

The Saigon Command claimed 119 North Vietnamese troops were killed at Quang Tri Wednesday and 53 weapons were captured. It said more than 800 rounds of artillery and mortar fire hit South Vietnamese positions, and total government casualties were 12 killed and 32 wounded.

In Cambodia, a relief column suffered more than 100 casualties fighting its way into a town 50 miles south of Phnom Penh that had been under siege for a week.

Breakthrough reported in leukemia research

WASHINGTON (AP) — American scientists say a reported Soviet breakthrough in leukemia research raises new hopes of finding a preventive vaccine and improved treatment for the disease.

The breakthrough, announced at a news conference Wednesday, comes at a time when scientists—especially in the United States—already are making significant progress in slowing down the development of all forms of cancer.

Soviet scientists have reported they have produced leukemia in monkeys and baboons after inoculating them with blood from human leukemia patients. The implication is that the Soviets might have succeeded in isolating a cancer-causing virus.

Dr. John B. Moloney of the National Cancer Institute said the Soviet report raises "new hope, absolutely" for preventing and stopping not only leukemia but also leukemia-like diseases and for cancers of the connective tissues.

The three classes of cancer together comprise 38,000 of the 640,000 new cases of cancer in the United States.

Twenty-five years ago, the average survival of leukemia victims was measured in weeks and months. Today, it is at least three to four years and a few patients have been known to live from 12 to 15 years or more.

Dr. C. Gordon Zubrod of the National Cancer Institute said recently the most up-to-date evidence suggests that various combinations of chemicals can provide normal life expectancy for patients with such malignancies as acute leukemia, Hodgkins' disease and lymphoma.

He said combinations of drugs also have been successful in causing complete remissions—or temporary control of the symptoms—in growing numbers of patients among the 85 per cent cancer victims suffering from solid tumors like those of the breast and lung.

Dr. Moloney, who introduced reporters to Dr. Boris Lapin, the chief investigator of the Soviet leukemia project, said he felt it was obvious that the Soviets had succeeded in isolating some form of virus but said it was not necessarily a human leukemia virus.

In any case, he said, the development could have important implications for the control of leukemia and other malignancies.

Moloney said a team of NCIsponsored scientists is scheduled to go to Moscow in October to obtain some of the Soviet viral material and to give Soviet scientists samples of 32 viruses isolated by the Americans—one of which is under suspicion of acting as a possible human cancer virus.

Policeman is wounded

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — A Rogers policeman was seriously wounded early today in a shooting incident at Rogers.

Authorities said Patrolman Larry Faulkenbury was shot twice — once in the arm and once in the right side — by a man he had stopped on a routine traffic violation.

Officers said the man pulled a pistol on Faulkenbury as the officer stood beside the man's car.

Faulkenbury returned the fire and officers said Myrl Jones, 55, of Rt. 1, Hindsville was wounded in the chest.

Both men were listed in serious condition at a Rogers hospital.

No charge has been filed. An investigation is continuing.

Report on skyjacking

WASHINGTON (AP) — All 18 attempts this year to hijack an aircraft for ransom have failed, Federal Aviation Administration Administrator John H. Shaffer said today.

In every instance, he said, the persons involved either have been arrested, killed, or are under the control of a foreign government.

"The recent action by the Algerian government in returning the $1.5 million in ransom money paid by U.S. airlines in two hijacking incidents must be a severe blow to anyone who still imagines that air piracy can be a profitable enterprise," Shaffer said.

"There now is virtually no place on earth a hijacker can go with the realistic expectation that he will be allowed to keep the money he has extorted.

"When a person buys a ticket on an airliner with the idea of hijacking it for profit," Shaffer said, "he has really bought himself a ticket to prison or to the morgue."

Hijackings for extortion began last Nov. 24 when a man known only as D. Cooper disappeared after parachuting from an airliner with $200,000 in ransom money.

Many government officials are confident Cooper was killed in the jump. However, no body has been found, and the money has not been recovered.

All 20 hijack attempts since—two last year—have ended in failure, Shaffer said.

In five cases the hijackers escaped by parachute. All but one were tracked down on the ground and arrested, and the ransom paid them was recovered. The exception was a hijacker who surrendered to authorities in Honduras and claimed to have sent the $303,000 in ransom to recipients in Red China.

Of the 27 persons involved in the 20 hijackings, Shaffer said, three were killed and 17 were taken into custody by U.S. officials.

A man and a woman hijacked an airliner to Algeria June 2 after collecting $500,000 in ransom, and three men and two women similarly made their way to Algeria with a $1 million ransom July 31.

In both cases the Algerian government returned the money to the U.S. airlines involved and now has control of the hijackers.

The present status of the 17 persons arrested in the 20 hijack cases: three have been convicted and sentenced to prison terms of up to 45 years; one has been convicted and is awaiting sentencing; one was committed to a mental institution, and 12 are awaiting trial.

Of the $10,712,000 and 15 pounds of gold paid out in ransom, all but $503,000 has been recovered.

Investigation into GOP funds is underway

BOSTON (AP) — President Nixon's campaign manager says the General Accounting Office is investigating contributions from California millionaire Max Pavlevsky and General Motors heir Stewart Mott to the Democratic presidential campaign effort.

Clark MacGregor, chairman of the Committee to Re-elect President Nixon, said Wednesday that Pavlevsky told Californians over the weekend that he has given $350,000 to the campaign effort of Sen. George McGovern, and that Mott, a philanthropist, has given the Democratic nominee about $400,000.

The GAO recently criticized the Nixon campaign effort for failing to document adequately about $350,000 in contributions. Asked by newsmen about the administration's involvement in the alleged bugging attempt at the Democratic National Headquarters in Washington, MacGregor criticized a civil suit filed by the Democrats in connection with the alleged incident.

"It amounts to an effort to improperly use the courts to bastardize the judicial process for political purposes," MacGregor said.

Jacket Excitement

Late summer and right into fall, there's lots of excitement in the coat and jacket department. Short warm-up jackets, the varsity kind, are made in lively plaids of brushed wool. The younger set will latch on to the new woodman's shirts, so popular with jeans and overalls.

MRS. STEPHEN JOE WREN

Mr. Wren and bride to live in Prescott

Janis Kay Cummings and Stephen Joe Wren were united in marriage at eight o'clock in the evening on August 19 in the Central Baptist Church in Prescott.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Noel Cummings and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wren all of Prescott.

The Rev. Arlis East performed the double ring ceremony in soft candlelight before an altar centered with a central arrangement of white gladioli and mums centered with a tall candelabra holding lighted tapers. The central arrangement was flanked by spiral candelabra and seven branched candelabra and jade foliage enhanced the altar. Nuptial music was presented by Miss Virginia Daniel, organist and Mrs. Carl Dalrymple, Jr., soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of exclusive design featuring a lace ruffled yoke with mandarin style collar of Spanish lace and long fitted lace sleeves with ruffled cuffs, and featured a fitted empire bodice with bouffant silhouette skirt of angel mist and Spanish lace ruffles on the bottom of the skirt and tiering into cathedral length train with a headpiece of lace petals. The bride's bouquet was a colonial bouquet of white, delight roses and bridal tulle backed by polished ivy leaves sprinkled with diamond dust.

Mrs. Dale Harmon of Pine Bluff, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were, Mrs. James Cummings of Mesquite, Tex., Mrs. Larry Warrell of Dallas; and Mrs. Tommy Beebe. Their identical gowns were of flowered organza in shades of blue and lilac over blue satin, their dresses were styled after the brides. The bridesmaids carried a bouquet of mixed summer flowers backed with blue tulle on velvet foliage.

Little Misses Lisa Cummings of Mesquite and Tammy Harmon of Pine Bluff, were flower girls. Their dresses were fashioned to match the bridesmaids and carried miniature fireside baskets filled with mixed flowers.

Jake McKinnon served as best man. Groomsmen were Freddie and Larry Wren, and George Mitchell. Shane Wren, was ring bearer.

Seating the guest were James Cummings of Mesquite and Mike Payne. Candlelighters were Miss Debbie Harmon of Pine Bluff, and Cindy Green, they wore styled hair pieces of flowers.

The reception was held in the community center following the ceremony.

For travel the bride chose a long dress of blue double knit, and pinned the corsage from her brides bouquet at her shoulder.

After a wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Prescott.

Julius Caesar went right up with dummy's king of clubs and led a low heart. East ducked and Caesar's queen won that trick. A second heart was played and Brutus, sitting East, was in with the ace.

He led a low trump. Caesar looked over at Cassius, sitting West, and noted his lean and hungry look. Caesar also reflected that it was the Ides of March and that a soothsayer had warned him that fates were not going to work for him on that fateful day.

With everything behaving nicely, Caesar could win the rest of the tricks. He decided to see what he could do about making his contract with all finesse wrong.

He rose with his ace of trumps, led a club to dummy's ace; discarded his last club on dummy's high heart and proceeded to take and lose the diamond finesse.

Cassius was on lead but could find nothing better than a diamond return. Caesar won; ruffed his low diamond; finally tried and lost the trump finesse but was still home with his contract.

Had Caesar tried a first round finesse in trumps, Cassius would have taken his queen and led a trump back; later on Cassius would get in with the king of diamonds and lead a third trump.

After this, Caesar would be unable to ruff his last diamond because dummy would be out of trumps.

FROM THE GUYS
LAS VEGAS (AP) — Even the high-rolling gamblers at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas have a sense of humor. July 12 was Julius Caesar's birthday, his 2072 to be exact. A group of the boys interrupted their action pursuits long enough to have a sash wrapped around the chest of the hotel-casino's 10 foot statue of the Roman Emperor. The sash read, "Happy Birthday, Big Julie."

Another One of Those!

DEAR HELEN AND SUE:
My sisters are blackmailing me into dressing up like a girl. They persuaded me to doll up in their clothes once, then put makeup on me and fixed my long hair like theirs. I didn't know they took a picture of me till later, and now they say they'll show it to Mom and Dad if I don't play their "sister" whenever they get bored. Our folks would kill me, so what am I to do?—BOY FORCED TO BE A GIRL

DEAR BOY:

Try telling the truth! This is the fourth letter we've received from you, all concerning sex changes on one kind or another. Since you've evidently got a problem, or anyway a fixation, take it to a therapist—and don't build up your story to get attention!—HELEN

DEAR BOY-GIRL: (Or is it Girl-Boy?)

...And if you're just playing the good ol' game of Hoax the Columnists, take your business elsewhere. Too many stories with the same plot don't sell! (We couldn't believe you now, even if you swore that this time it was "no lie.")—SUE

DEAR RAP:
Am 16, an A and B student, and I drink—with my parents' permission. All the guys I know drink, but hide it from their folks. To me, a guy isn't really a guy unless he's tried booze—every red-blooded American male does.

My parents recognize this, so I'm allowed to serve hard stuff. As a result, my friends aren't out on the street, but at our house, where we drink, shoot pool, talk, listen to records, etc.

I think my mother and father are great for allowing this, and they are very popular with my friends. They realize that if they refused to let me drink I'd do it anyway, away from home, where I'd maybe get in a lot of trouble.

Don't you think other parents should be that way too?—A GIRL WITH UNDERSTANDING PARENTS

DEAR GIRL:
Your parents must be pretty dumb! You, too, in spite of your A-B average. They've let you talk them into allowing something that could get them in a heap of trouble, and you think they're really neat for it!

They give you and your friends free use of the liquor cabinet, so naturally your house is a gathering place, but do they think what might happen if a 16-year-old got too much, had a wreck on the way home, and the booze was traced to them?

I hope you're careful how you abuse your parents' leniency.—SUE

DEAR GIRL:
"Understanding" parents sometimes allow mealtime wine or beer as a way of casually introducing social drinks. But when they pass around the booze as a way of making points with their teenagers and friends, they make no points with me!

Granted, we adults can't keep all liquor away from under-legal-agers, but if we help them get it, in unlimited amounts, we're not only breaking the law but saying in effect, "It's okay kids—get squiffed. We approve."—HELEN

Rain-delay is bad for Pat Dobson

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pitcher Pat Dobson wasn't talking. And Manager Earl Weaver wasn't asking.

Their silence wasn't golden for the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday night.

"He didn't tell me that his arm had tightened up and I didn't think of asking him," said Weaver after his pitcher came back after a rain delay and was hit hard while losing a 7-1 decision to the Minnesota Twins.

Dobson looked like two different pitchers against the Twins—pitching shutout ball before the 34-minute rain delay interrupted the seventh inning, and then getting whacked as the home team scored all its runs.

"Dobson looked like he was still throwing good after the rain delay," said Minnesota second baseman Rod Carew. "But I guess he gave us some pitches that we didn't let him get away with."

Dobson got two outs, but couldn't get the last one—giving up four singles and two runs before leaving the game. Minnesota starter Bert Blyleven had better luck after the rain delay ("It made my leg stiff, instead of my arm," he said) and managed to complete the game with a seven-hitter.

Despite losing, the Orioles stayed tied for first place in the American League East with Detroit because the Tigers also lost a 4-1 decision to the California Angels.

The Oakland A's improved their margin in the West to 1½ games. They beat the Cleveland Indians 2-0 while the second-place Chicago White Sox lost to the Boston Red Sox 4-2.

The New York Yankees trimmed the Texas Rangers 3-1 and the Kansas City Royals turned back to the Milwaukee Brewers 6-2 in Wednesday's other American League games.

Olympic language barriers

MUNICH (AP) — Olympic press conferences are a linguistic nightmare—especially waiting for those Russian punchlines.

Vladimir Vasin, a handsome Moscow economics student, had just won the springboard diving gold medal to break a 60-year U.S. domination of the event.

Late Wednesday night, Vladimir met the press.

A question about Vasin's age, occupation and marital status was asked by an English-speaking newswoman.

It was repeated by a man in a blue coat in German—then, a handsome chap speaking French, a mustachioed man in Italian and, finally, a fellow in Russian.

Vasin stayed awake through it all and retorted off an answer, snickering as he finished.

Two Russian-speaking reporters snickered along.

A cute Olympic hostess whipped out the answer in third-hand English and the appropriate news hounds laughed it up over Vasin saying, "With diving and school, I have no time for another occupation such as marriage."

What Vasin said about his victory—at least what the English-translating girl said he said—was:

"For a long time the American divers were the best in the world. We have come to the conclusion that they are not gods and we can compete with them."

WHA officials deny interest of Colombo

WINNIPEG (AP) — Principals of the fledgling World Hockey Association have vehemently denied that Joseph Colombo Jr., president of the American-Italian League, has any financial interest in the new league.

MUNICH (AP) — It was the best of days for one sharpshooter. It was very nearly the worst of days for 10 others. It was the bitterest of days for one high flyer. It was the sweetest of days for another.

"I don't spend 30 hours a week at a hobby," John Writer said Wednesday after winning the three-position small-bore rifle and setting a bit of American Olympic history. "This is a sport. Real competition."

By winning the gold medal at these 20th Summer Games, the 27-year-old Chicago marksman gave the United States its second shooting medal, the first time the United States has won more than one in the traditionally European-dominated sport.

Writer scored a world and Olympic record 1,166 points out of a possible 1,200 in the prone, kneeling and standing positions. And the United States got its third shooting medal when Larry Bassham of Commerce, Tex., an Army marksman and instructor at Ft. Benning, Ga., got the silver, finishing behind Writer with 1,157 points.

Vic Auer of North Hollywood, Calif., had gotten America's first shooting medal of the Games on Monday, taking a silver in the small-bore prone competition.

The 10 other sharpshooters are known collectively as the U.S. basketball team, whose su-

Mix would like to tackle politics

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

OAKLAND, Calif. — (NEA) — Ron Mix is a 33-year-old lawyer with a pretty wife and two young daughters who just happens to be playing professional football. In this phase of the dropout vogue that says something because Ron was also away from the game for more than a year. And when you really get down to it, he wants primarily to be a politician.

Ron is a registered Republican. "The office I would love to hold," he says, "is to be a member of the House of Representatives."

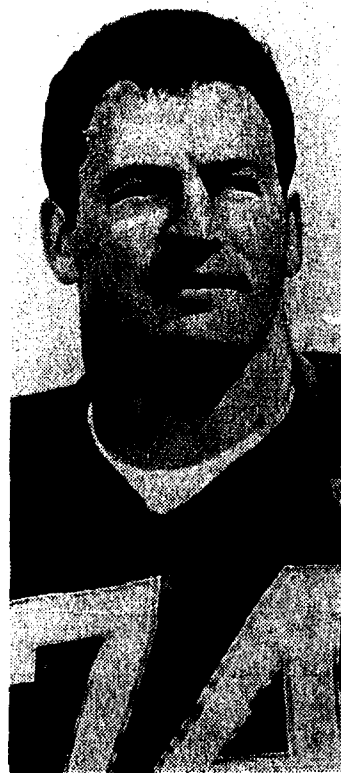

He says it in slow, measured tones because Ron is a deliberate, thoughtful person—a contradiction of the swift-striking, very physical offensive tackle, which he also is.

The juxtaposed images are very crucial now because Ron has become suddenly important to the Oakland Raiders, a team striving for the Super Bowl. Bob Brown, their all-pro right tackle, is out indefinitely with knee surgery, and has been replaced by Mix, who was also an all-pro tackle most of the 10 years he played with San Diego (1960-69).

It was "pure torture" for Ron to come back to football this year. He had a continuous headache from the tension and the hitting the first three weeks. "The first day the team gathered," he remembers, "I went in with the rookies. I felt out of place and I said to myself, 'What is a 33-year-old attorney doing here?' I was somewhat embarrassed."

That has passed, and he has even begun to feel he's earning the money from football which will be the financial basis for his future career in politics.

"Let's be different," he says. "Let's talk politics."

Ron Mix

Taking the bitter and the sweet premacy of the game in the Olympics very nearly came to an end Wednesday.

"We needed a game like this where we had to come from behind," Coach Hank Iba said of his kids after they rallied from seven points down in the second half to pull out a 61-54 triumph over Brazil.

The victory was the fourth for the Yanks, now undefeated in 59 contests stretching back to the 1936 Berlin Games, when the sport was introduced to the Olympics.

The bitter high-flyer was Bob Seagren, America's premiere pole vaulter, angered over what he called "obviously a political decision" on the part of the International Amateur Athletic Federation to outlaw his green vaulting pole for the Games.

The pole, with a newer weave of fiberglass than the old ones, came out last year and Seagren, rebounding from knee surgery, used it to set his world record of 18 feet 5½ inches.

After he set the record last month, the IAAF banned the pole saying it hadn't been available for world-wide use.

On Monday, the IAAF reversed itself, reinstating the pole. On Wednesday the federation reversed itself again. "It's a personal vendetta against me and against America," said the angry Seagren of Monterey Park, Calif.

Seagren got a bit of good news—and Sweden a bit of disastrous news—when it was announced that his stiffest competitor for the gold, Kjell Isaksson, would not compete because of groin and leg injuries.

The happiest high-flyer was Vladimir Vasin, a Moscow University economics student who won the gold in springboard diving, ending a 60-year U.S. domination of the three-meter event.

"For years the Americans have been the best divers in the world," said the handsome 25-year-old Russian. "But now we have come to the conclusion that they are not gods and that we can compete with them."

Craig Lincoln of Hopkins, Minn., rallied from sixth place on his final two dives to win the bronze behind Italy's Franco Cagnotto.

In the four swimming finals, the United States wound up with one gold, two silvers and a bronze. That, along with the rest of the day's competition, gave America 22 medals thus far—seven gold, nine silver and six bronze. Second in the standings is East Germany with 15 medals, five of them gold.

Four U.S. girls combined to get the lone water gold, winning the women's 400-meter freestyle relay in a world-record time of 3:55.19.

Shirley Babashoff of Fountain Valley, Calif., was the heroine as she covered the final 100 meters in a sizzling 58.18 seconds to overtake East German anchor swimmer Kornelia Ender.

Ahead of Miss Babashoff in the relay were Sandy Neilson of El Monte, Calif., Jennifer Kemp of Cincinnati and Jane Barkman of Wayne, Pa.

One silver went to Tim McKee of Newton Square, Pa., who finished an incredible two-thousandths of a second behind Gunnar Larsson of Sweden in the men's 400-meter individual medley. Both were clocked in 4:31.98 and the computer had to provide a victor. It was Larsson, 4:31.961 to McKee's 4:31.983.

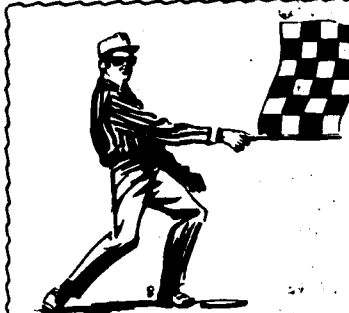

The other silver and the bronze both came in the men's 100-meter breaststroke. Nobutaka Taguchi of Japan won the gold with a world-record 1:04.91 clocking while Tom Bruce of Sunnyvale, Calif., came in second and John Hencken of Santa Clara, Calif., third.

Only in the women's 400-meter freestyle were the U.S. swimmers shut out. Shane Gould, Australia's 15-year-old sensation, won her second gold to the Games with her second world-record performance, winning in 4:19.04. Miss Babashoff was America's best in the event, coming in fourth.

In women's all-around gymnastics, Russia's Ludmila Turisheva, graceful as a ballerina and strong as an acrobat, won the gold while the best of the five Americans, Cathy Rigby of Long Beach, Calif., was 10th.

Japan swept the men's gymnastics with Sawao Kato coping the gold.

Dan Gable of Waterloo, Iowa, moved within a step of grabbing a gold in wrestling, reaching the finals of the 149.5-pound freestyle division by pinning Poland's Wlodzimierz Cieslak in a semifinal.

'Super Bowl' is worth $1.3 million after winning first in Hambletonian DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — Stanley Dancer has run $20,000 into $1,384,000 in two years without going near the stock market. He did it with Super Bowl.

Super Bowl became the fastest 3-year-old trotter in history Wednesday by winning the Hambletonian in straight heats of 1:57 2-5 and 1:56 2-5 and was sold to Hanover Shoe Farms in Pennsylvania for $1 million.

With the first prize of $59,545 in the Hambletonian, Super Bowl's career earnings were boosted to $384,022. Dancer bought him as a yearling for $20,000.

RECORD BLUE MARLIN

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — Big-game fisherman Alec Nicol broke a world record by catching an 823-pound Pacific blue marlin on 80-pound test line. The man-fish fight in the Bay of Plenty lasted two-and-one-half hours.

The previous world record for a blue marlin was a 652-pounder caught at New Zealand's Bay of Islands in 1965.

PRO CHARTS

by MURRAY OLDERMAN
American Conference: Western Division
7—SAN DIEGO CHARGERS

Harland Sware

PROSPECTUS—S w e d e Sware beginning to make George Allen a piker when it comes to trading. Whole new look to Chargers, both coaching and player personnel. On paper, you can almost make a case for them. They'll score plenty, as usual. But the defense is the enigma. Too many bodies to weld together in one season.

OFFENSE

QUARTERBACK—John Hadl's the team captain for life. He's the kind to find championship fruition late in career, as Y. A. Tittle did. Superb leader. Rating—A—.

RUNNING BACKS—If they can handle him, Duane Thomas means all the difference. With Cid Edwards, who finally gives them big full-back type, and little Mike Garrett, they have the versatility to tear up lots of ground. Rating—A—.

WIDE RECEIVERS—Never a lack of this species in history of club. With Gary Garrison, all-pro type, plus zippy Jerry Levis and Dave Williams, could afford to trade Billy Parks. Rating—A—.

TIGHT END—Old Pettis Norman hangs on. Blocks well but not much receiving threat. Might shift Williams over. Rating—B—.

LINE—Chargers insist this is stronghold of club. Effective in protecting Hadl. Standouts are guards Walt Sweeney, Doug Wilkerson. Huge at the tackles with Russ Washington, Terry Owens. Got lots of depth, too, with return of Ernie Wright, a Charger original. Rating—B+.

DEFENSE

LINE—The key to Chargers in '72. Can they wheedle a big year from Deacon Jones? Is Lionel Aldridge still NFL caliber at other end? Can they find pair of tackles from half a dozen candidates? The tackles are actually the big worry, though they have acquired Dave Costa. With all the eligibles like Greg Wojcik, George Wright, John Richardson, Kevin Hardy, the guy who might be the standout is rookie Pete Lazetich. Rating—B—.

LINEBACKERS—Another area that needs help. Steady enough in the middle with Bob Babich but he could be moved, thanks to acquisition of Tim Rossovich. And still have Pete Barnes and Rick Redman (player-coach) to share weak side. But ex-Patriot Ed Philpott has to come through on strong side. Rating—B—.

SECONDARY—Bunch of guys nobody heard of much but there are no real worries in this sector. Bob Howard, Joe Beauchamp are corner backs who don't get burned. The safeties should be Bryant Solter, Chris Fletcher, old buddies from Pennsylvania. Rating—B—.

KICKING—Dennis Parlee finished '71 as only two-way boater (place-kicks and punting). Sware would like him to concentrate on punting, leave field goals to rookie Bill McClard, a record-breaker from Arkansas. Rating—B+.

SPECIAL TEAMS—Levis, who should be great, had off year on returns. Might move Garrett in to help out. Have designated special teams coach for first time. Rating—B—.

PREDICTION

Third in division. Super-tough schedule precludes any higher pick—as does that unsettled defense.

Clemente settles for tie

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Retorts are made to be broken, but for the time being Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente and Cincinnati's Pete Rose will have to settle for ties.
Clemente singled twice in the Pirates' 11-4 romp over San Diego Wednesday night and tied Honus Wagner's club mark of 2,970 career hits.
Rose managed one single in the Reds' 4-2 triumph over the New York Mets and matched Vada Pinson's Cincinnati record of 1,881 hits.
Elsewhere in the National League, Houston downed Philadelphia 5-3, the Chicago Cubs edged Los Angeles 9-8 on Jim Hickman's 11th-inning home run, San Francisco nipped St. Louis 3-2 and Montreal shaded Atlanta 3-2.

American League scores: California 4, Detroit 1; Minnesota 7, Baltimore 1; Oakland 2, Cleveland 0; Boston 4, Chicago White Sox; New York Yankees 3, Texas 1; Kansas City 6, Milwaukee 2.

"I don't worry about records," Clemente said. "All my life I just play the game the best I can. I didn't even know I was close to Wagner. The people who keep the statistics never tell me anything."
The people in the stands at Three Rivers Stadium told Clemente something when they gave him a standing ovation.
"Everybody started cheering," Clemente said, "but I didn't know why. I didn't know what was going on until I looked at the scoreboard and saw the message. When I singled in the first inning, the second base umpire (Ed Sudol) told me, 'If you get another base hit it looks like I'll have to give you the ball.' I wondered what he was talking about."

In addition to Clemente's two singles, Dave Cash hit a three-run homer, Willie Stargell slammed a solo homer and Manny Sanguillen drove in three runs with a pair of singles. Bruce Kison blanked the Padres on six hits.

Cincinnati's Rose also received a standing ovation, but said he wasn't aware of it.

"Did they stand up for me?" he asked. "I didn't realize it. I just saw my family standing and I thought someone was standing in front of them. My son (Pete Jr., age 2½) told me I'd get the record tonight."

The Mets took a 2-1 lead on Dave Marshall's seventh-inning homer but the Reds rallied for three in their half on singles by Tony Perez, Denis Menke and Hal McRae and Joe Hague's two-run double.

Philadelphia's 21-game winner Steve Carlton held Houston hitless until Tommy Helms' fifth-inning single touched off a two-run rally. Helms scored on Larry Howard's double and Howard tallied on Roger Metzger's infield chopper. Bob

15-year-old puts Smith on the ropes

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — The spectators got more than their money's worth when play began in the U.S. Open Tennis Championships.

No. 1 seed Stan Smith of San Pines, S.C. was put on the ropes by 15-year-old Billy Martin of Palo Verde, Calif.

Smith, the 1971 and 1969 winner here, rebounded, however, for a 5-7, 6-1, 7-5, 6-3 triumph. But from the time young Martin, a national juniors champion, reeled off 11 straight points in the first set until Smith got the necessary break in the fourth set, the match had the fans looking for an upset.

The girls start play today and they could give the crowd the same edge-of-your-seat activity.

The key women's match will pit top-seeded Billie Jean King of Palm-Aire, Fla., the defending champion, against Fatti Hogan of La Jolla, Calif., ranked ninth nationally. Although Mrs. King, also the title winner in 1967, is favored Miss Hogan says she'll have to work for every point.

Razorback work load lightened

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks will have their work load lightened a bit beginning with practice today.
"This should help them regain some of the spring in their legs," said Coach Frank Broyles.

He said the team has continued to be hampered by weariness of the two-a-day practices.
"Our loose ends, which we were hoping would tighten up, haven't," Broyles said. "Before long they should start tightening up. I have no complaints about the spirit or morale of the team. They are trying to fight through this leg-weary period, but they're not progressing very much."

world's greatest track athletes today in what the games' organizers hope will be the most accurate if not the most electric of running, jumping and throwing competitions.

The electricity will be provided by a plethora of computer-linked gadgets designed to more easily and accurately determine winners and their marks and speed the answers to the world.

Additional electricity on this first of nine days will be generated by such world record holders as Dave Hemery, Eddie Hart, Dave Wottle, Heide Rosendahl, Hildegard Falck and Paul Nihill.

The two final events on the card—the women's long jump and 20-kilometer walk—normally lack dramatics but the first day of track thrusts those events into center stage.

Nihill, England's newest sensation, set the world record for the 20-kilometer walk at 1 hour 24 minutes 50 seconds, as he shed the mark of 1:25:19 set by East Germany's Peter Frenkel earlier this year.

Nihill is favored to win here but Frenkel and teammate Hans Reimann and Russia's Nikolay Smaga fill out a tough field.

Before the walkers re-enter the stadium from their 11.4-mile stroll through the streets, the 25-year old Miss Rosendahl of West Germany may have the gold medal in the long jump.

The lass owns the world mark of 22 feet 5¼ inches and will have the massive throng of 80,000 behind her.

Meanwhile, the runners take the Rekortan track for the first time with Hemery hoping to begin successful defense of his 400-meter intermediate hurdle crown.

Hemery is expected to meet America's Ralph Mann and Uganda's John Akil-Bua in the finals next Saturday.

Then the sprinters take the track for the first round of the 100 meter-dash featuring the two newest world record holders, Hart and Rey Robinson of the United States. Pietro Mennea of Italy and Greece's Vasili Papageorgopoulos are also in the field.

But favored to cop the gold medal in the event is Russia's Valery Borzov, unbeaten in the last two years and one of the most indestructible sprinters around.

Dave Whottle tests his tendonitis-struck left knee in the men's 800 meters, Miss Falck tries to qualify in the women's 800-meter run and about 100 distance runners take off in three heats of the 10,000 meters on this first day.

Meat price break is expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cattlemen are angry and consumers skeptical, but government and meat industry officials say housewives soon will get a price break at the meat counter.

The Department of Agriculture said Wednesday prices for cattle at market dipped in August for the first time in four months, although there has been no official indication that retail prices have followed suit.

The USDA said cattle prices were down $1.10 per one hundred pounds on the hoof from the record high of $34.60 in July. There are 18 per cent more cattle being fattened now than a year ago, which means a bigger supply by fall, it said.

John A. Copeland, chairman of the National Livestock and Meat Board in Chicago, said the declining prices at the market level should be passed on at supermarkets in the coming months.

But Iowa cattleman Bert Eason Jr. said here that cattlemen are "irritated, frustrated and upset" over the slump in meat prices.

He told a news conference that the cattlemen are the ones absorbing the burden of the lower wholesale costs and that consumers would now be paying 12.9 cents a pound less for beef if the lower farm prices had been passed on.

Farm prices overall in August averaged one per cent higher than in July, and were at an all-time high, the USDA said.

Wheat was at a six-year high, averaging $1.51 per bushel, nearly 20 cents above July and 23 cents more than a year ago. The wheat market has been strained by the sale of one-fourth of the U.S. grain crop to the Soviet Union.

Government analysts stand by earlier predictions that grocery prices this year will be only about 4 per cent higher than in 1971. That would be more than the 2.4 per cent increase last year, but less than in some other recent years.

Prices also were up in August for milk, hogs, lettuce and grapefruit, the USDA said. Declines were noted in broiler chickens and eggs, celery, sweet potatoes, strawberries and oranges.

The Department said prices for pork, the number two meat in the country, were up in August and probably will continue rising.

SIGNAL GREEN.

How much clear track ahead?

Automatic signals linked with modern communications can give the train crew the answer quickly and accurately.

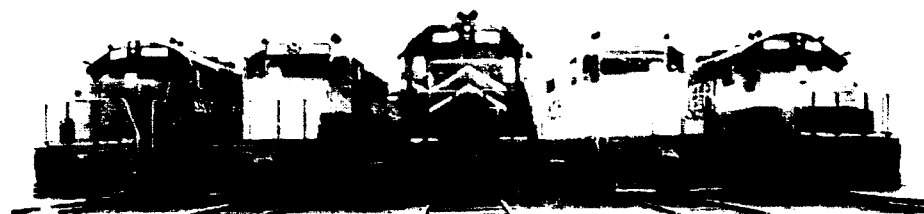

In fact, electronic advancements can be found in most areas of train operation, especially in the area of safety devices.

For instance, electronic detectors on the side of the track can inspect passing trains, sound an alarm if they discover something requiring attention and can indicate that the train be stopped so that the situation can be corrected.

In other areas of railroading, technological advancements have made the rail industry more efficient. For example, centralized traffic control and the use of computers permit much safer operations.

The Railroads of Arkansas are changing. And these changes are making the rail industry even more valuable since better, safer service benefits everyone from railroader to shipper to customer.

The Railroads of Arkansas are pulling for you.

Judging judges part of the job

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A California commission which recommended the firing of a Los Angeles judge this week is the nation's pioneering agency in policing judicial competency and conduct.

The California Commission on Judicial Qualifications was created by a constitutional amendment approved by a 3-1 margin in the 1960 general election.

Part of the California plan conceived by retired California Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson to assure confidence in judicial integrity, it has become a model adopted by 25 states.

Nine-member commission recommended Tuesday that the California Supreme Court remove Los Angeles Municipal Court Judge Leland W. Geller from office.

It was only the second time in the commission's 12-year history that it has made a removal recommendation, which must be ratified by the State Supreme Court after briefing and hearing.

The first was rejected by the Supreme Court eight years ago and that judge still is serving on the bench.

But the mere fact that the commission exists and functions achieves substantial effect, Justice Murray Draper of the State Court of Appeals here believes. Draper, the commission's chairman, reported in a legislative hearing that seven judges had resigned or retired in the course of investigations during a two-year period.

The latest commission report accused Geller of prejudice and bias against the public defender's office. It charged that, in one case, the judge jabbed an electric prod into a public defender's buttocks to discourage the defender's efforts for his client.

Geller also was accused by the commission of relieving eight public defenders because they refused to plead their clients guilty, as the judge desired.

Draper said the bulk of complaints against judges have no merit, but when complaints develop substantial evidence of physical or mental incapacity, senility or misconduct, the commission investigates.

The first look is made by Jack E. Frankel, the commission's executive secretary since its inception. If he finds the complaint has substance, the commission requests investigators from the attorney general's staff.

All proceedings are confidential until the commission makes a removal or public censure recommendation to the Supreme Court, which has final authority. Thereafter, the case becomes public.

Draper said "minor impingements upon good judicial decorum and deportment can be cured informally, since almost every judge is anxious to rectify them when he realizes some fair complaint has been made."

Metal deposits on ocean floor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A University of Southern California geologist who recently sailed on a Russian research ship says huge metal deposits were found on the ocean floor.

The importance of the find is scientific rather than economic, said Dr. James L. Bischoff, associate professor of geologic sciences.

Extraction of the iron, manganese, copper, zinc and barium would not be worth the effort, he said, but the deposit process itself is of considerable interest to geologists.

The metals lie in brown mud more than 12,000 feet under the South Pacific Ocean, Bischoff added. They are in a strip 300 miles wide and about 1,400 miles long between the Galapagos Islands at the north and Easter Island at the south.

Bischoff was one of the first American scientists to be invited on a Soviet oceanographic expedition. He worked with the crew of the research vessel Dmitry Mendeleev.

The newly found metals are deposited on the flanks of an ocean floor ridge called the East Pacific Rise. Molten material is constantly oozing up from the earth's interior along this ridge, said Bischoff, and the formation of the metal deposits may be related to this process.

Another question that might be studied, he said, is whether the depositing of heavy metals on the ocean floor has some influence in maintaining delicate chemical balances that allow living organisms to survive in the sea.

TAX ESTIMATE FOR STATE IS REVEALED

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A state Department of Finance and Administration report Wednesday indicated that Gov. Dale Bumpers' tax program in 1971 produced about $29.6 million in the last fiscal year.

While the report draws no specific conclusions, its figures indicate that a big surplus in the state treasury at the end of the fiscal year was because of abnormal economic growth and improved auditing and collection methods by the department.

The surplus totals about $25 million.

The report shows that about $5.3 million resulted from more efficient collection procedures and intensified auditing.

All the taxes collected by the Tax Division of the department in fiscal 1971 totaled $371.7 million.

BELFAST (AP) — About 1,000 Roman Catholic families have abandoned the rent and tax strike in Londonderry, Northern Ireland's second largest city, the Londonderry Development Commission said today.

The strike began a year ago as part of a campaign by Catholic civil rights activists to get jobs and housing on a par with the province's majority Protestants.

Londonderry has more than 5,000 families living in city housing, and nearly 3,000 of them are in the Irish Republican Army strongholds of Creggan and Bogside that the British army occupied a month ago.

A commission spokesman said fewer than 1,500 Catholic families are withholding rents now, compared with about 2,500 at the height of the civil disobedience campaign.

"When all those innocent people died at the hands of the IRA on 'Bloody Friday' and when customs officers were killed in Newry last week by a terrorist bomb, scores of people came to us and said they wanted to start paying their rents

FUNDING POSSIBLE

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dalton Jennings, commissioner of the state Social Services Division, said Wednesday that an additional $24 million annually in federal funds might be brought into Arkansas.

He said this was a result of a three-month campaign to reach elderly persons who need help in getting food assistance.

again and cooperate with the authorities," he said.

"This was because they did not want to be seen supporting the IRA cause. It is the most significant evidence to date that the Catholic community is sickened by the outrages committed by the IRA."

Thirteen persons were killed on Bloody Friday, July 21, when the IRA bombed bus and railroad stations, a bar and stores in the heart of Belfast.

Nine persons, including four customs officials and three terrorists, died in the Aug. 22 bomb blast at a Newry customs post.

The army announced, meanwhile, that it had seized more than 15,429 pounds of explosives in Belfast and Londonderry in the past month, along with 41-227 rounds of ammunition, 132 rifles, 16 machine guns and 112 other weapons.

A sniper killed a British soldier in Belfast Wednesday and another soldier died from injuries received in an explosion two weeks ago. Their deaths brought to 544 the confirmed total of those killed in three years of violence in Northern Ireland.

had diminished. Others believed that having racked up six wins to Spassky's three in the first 13 games, and one of those Russian three a forfeit, Fischer felt he would prove nothing by taking risks.

If this match was being played according to the rules already adopted for the 1976 championship, Spassky would have lost his crown to Fischer on the 13th game. Under the new rules not yet in effect, draws will not count, and the match goes to the first player to win six games.

win the title and Spassky needs 12 to keep it.

Victory for Fischer would take the championship away from the Soviet Union for the first time since 1946.

"I think Bobby will play to win — but he is being very careful now," said Miguel Quinteros, an Argentine master who recently joined the American entourage.

Some observers say the last seven games were draws because Spassky was playing sound chess and not because Fischer's appetite for a win
